So Close….

Hopefully this was the space where I was going to tell you when we could start serving congregate meals again and resume some of our programs. We are almost there. We are awaiting final guidelines from the state and then we can set to work.

On Monday, June 29th, we brought the whole staff back together for the first time in 3 ½ months! As you may recall, we have been on split shifts since mid-March so we could limit any potential exposure to the staff and continue serving Meals on Wheels and takeaway meals from the dining room door. Needless to say, it was great to see everyone, even behind masks.

For the latest news on restarting programs, stay tuned to our Website, www.gibsoncenter.org and Facebook page, as well as the Conway Sun and the radio station. We may drop you an email as well. Obviously, there will be some new protocols to follow and we’ll let you know about that too.

The HUGEST of thank yous to everyone who participated in our Spring Appeal and NH Gives. The response to both was overwhelming and we are so grateful.

A lot of work remains and as you know, we’re not out of the woods yet. But we would not have gotten this far without YOUR support and an incredible staff, board and splendiferous volunteers!

Thank you all! And stay tuned!
George Cleveland
Executive Director

A dangerous heat wave is hitting a large part of the country with some areas seeing temperatures as much as 20 degrees above normal. Summer heat and humidity can be deadly. According to the Centers for Disease Control, more than 600 people in the United States are killed by extreme heat every year. The American Red Cross has steps you can take to help stay safe when the temperatures soar.

Are you at risk? Some people are more at risk of developing a heat-related illness, including adults age 65 and older, those with chronic medical conditions, people who work outside, infants and children and athletes. Excessive heat can lead to sunburn, heat cramps, heat exhaustion and heat stroke. If someone is experiencing

Heat cramps in the legs or abdomen, get them to a cooler place, have them rest, lightly stretch the affected muscle, and replenish their fluids with a half a glass (about 4 ounces) of cool water every 15 minutes.

If someone is exhibiting signs of heat exhaustion (cool, moist, pale or flushed skin, heavy sweating, headache, nausea, dizziness, weakness, exhaustion), move them to a cooler place, remove or loosen tight clothing and spray the person with water or apply cool, wet cloths or towels to the skin. Fan the person. If they are conscious, give small amounts of cool water to drink. Make sure the person drinks slowly. Watch for changes in condition. If the person refuses water, vomits or begins to lose consciousness, call 9-1-1.

Heat Stroke—Life threatening signs of heat stroke include hot, red skin, which may be dry or moist; changes in consciousness; vomiting and high body temperature. Call 9-1-1 immediately if someone shows signs of heat stroke. Move the person to a cooler place. Quickly cool the person’s body by immersing them up to their neck in cold water if possible. Otherwise, douse or spray the person with cold water, or cover the person with cold, wet towels or bags of ice.

Heat safety tips:

- Hot cars can be deadly. Never leave children or pets in your vehicle. The inside temperature of the car can quickly reach 120 degrees.
- Stay hydrated by drinking plenty of fluids. Avoid drinks with caffeine or alcohol.
- Check on family, friends and neighbors who do not have air conditioning, who spend much of their time alone or who are more likely to be affected by the heat.
- If someone doesn’t have air conditioning, they should seek relief from the heat during the warmest part of the day in places like schools, libraries, theaters, malls, etc.
- Avoid extreme temperature changes.
- Wear loose-fitting, lightweight, light-colored clothing. Avoid dark colors because they absorb the sun’s rays.
- Slow down, stay indoors and avoid strenuous exercise during the hottest part of the day.
- Postpone outdoor games and activities.
- Use a buddy system when working in excessive heat. Take frequent breaks if working outdoors.
- Check on animals frequently to ensure that they are not suffering from the heat. Make sure they have plenty of cool water.
